

Sophia Setsu

275 South St 7P · New York, NY 10002 · 415-755-8315 · ssetsu@nyu.edu

Education

New York University, B.A. Computer Science, Bioinformatics Minor - GPA 3.16

Aug 2015 - May 2019

Relevant coursework: Introduction to Web Design, Applied Internet Technology, Parallel Programming, iOS Programming, Social Networks

New York University Paris, Semester Study Abroad

Spring 2017

Peking University, International Summer Program - GPA: 4.0

Summer 2016

Stanford University, Summer College Program - GPA: 3.7

Summer 2013, 2014

Relevant coursework: Public Speaking

Crystal Springs Uplands School - High school diploma, ACT Score: 33

Aug 2011 - June 2015

Work Experience

Bank of China

July 2017 - Aug 2017

Finance Department Intern

Shanghai

- Collaborated with team to develop design-forward PowerPoint presentations on promotional project progress
- Honed interpersonal skills when accompanying team on client meetings, taking note of client needs and concerns as well as helping translate for English-speaking clients
- Provided secretarial support by transcribing department meeting notes, answering client phone inquiries, and updating Excel spreadsheets with client information

Moet Hennessy

Aug 2013

Internal Affairs Intern · Sales Department Intern

Shanghai

- Practiced organizational skills by gathering and copying sales documents and new client forms then distributing them to the correct department
- Conducted background research on brands the company represented to help create content for marketing presentations to potential new clients
- Accompanied sales team on client visits, helped with organization at promotional events, and helped give translations during marketing presentations

Other Experience

NYU Healthcare Makerthon, NYU Startup Bootcamp

Oct - Nov 2018

Participant

- During the 48-hour Healthcare Makerthon, my team and I worked on developing a solution to the issue of social isolation among older adults aged 65+
- We began prototyping a social platform that would allow senior adults to interact with young adults in a way that's empowering and engaging for both groups.
- While our team didn't win the initial phase, the NYU Entrepreneurial Institute's mentorship team liked our team immensely and invited us to the next leg of the competition, a month-long intensive that included 1:1 coaching and an invitation to the Startup Bootcamp to further learn about the lean startup methodology.

NYU Leading with Others

Oct - Dec 2018

Participant

- The Leading with Others program is part of NYU's Leadership Initiative Mentorship Group Program, where a small group of students are mentored by the Leadership Initiative team on how to understand and develop our leadership skills over the course of a semester.

Helping Hands Volunteer Club

Aug 2013 - May 2015

Vice President

- Polled members on what type of activities they are most interested in doing and types of organizations they would wish to work with
- Helped email and organize volunteering events with chosen organizations which included a local senior center and a school for children with cerebral palsy

Skills & Interests

Technical Skills: Java, Python, C, Objective C, HTML, CSS, Javascript, Adobe Photoshop/Illustrator/ Flash/InDesign, Microsoft Excel/Word/Powerpoint

Language Skills: Conversational Mandarin and French

Interests: Cooking new foods from unfamiliar cuisines, Drawing (both digitally and on paper), Visiting art museums, Watching Gordon Ramsay shows